

Prince Rupert Gas Transmission Signs Project Agreement with Tl'azt'en First Nation

Vancouver, British Columbia – November 28, 2016 – TransCanada Corporation (TSX:TRP) (NYSE:TRP) (TransCanada) today announced that its Prince Rupert Gas Transmission project (PRGT) has signed a project agreement with Tl'azt'en First Nation. The agreement outlines benefits and commitments, including business opportunities for the Nation and employment for community members that will be provided during construction and includes financial benefits now and for as long as the project is in service. This agreement brings the number of Project Agreements on PRGT to 12.

“These agreements are signed after a meaningful exchange of information and ideas that not only benefit First Nations communities, but also make PRGT a stronger project,” said Tony Palmer, president of PRGT, “That’s why successful engagement with First Nations is a key marker of success for this project. We look forward to an ongoing working relationship with Tl'azt'en on this project.”

Along the pipeline route, PRGT has also signed project agreements with: Blueberry River First Nations, Doig River First Nation, Gitanyow, Halfway River First Nation, Kitselas First Nation, Lake Babine Nation, McLeod Lake Indian Band, Metlakatla First Nation, Nisga'a Lisims Government, Takla Lake First Nation, and Yekooche First Nation.

PRGT continues to work closely with First Nations along our pipeline route. We are committed to building and maintaining long-term positive relationships with Aboriginal groups.

Prince Rupert Gas Transmission is proposing to construct and operate a 900-kilometre natural gas pipeline to deliver natural gas from a point near Hudson's Hope to the proposed Pacific NorthWest LNG facility at Lelu Island, off the coast of Port Edward, near Prince Rupert.

The $5 billion PRGT project will provide significant economic benefits for British Columbians, local and provincial governments, and Aboriginal communities as it supports the export of surplus natural gas to global markets, including:

- Thousands of short-term jobs directed at B.C. residents;
- Opportunities for local and Aboriginal businesses;
- Millions of dollars in annual taxes to help support local services such as schools, policing, fire protection, and waste management;
- Billions of dollars in new investments for the province.
