

TC Energy Virtual Event Rules of Engagement

By attending a TC Energy virtual event, you are consenting to the following rules of engagement and are therefore subject to adhere to them. If you do not agree to these terms, you will not be allowed to participate.

To make this community event suitable for all participants, we will moderate and remove any individuals and comments that are:

- not relevant to the topic;
- profane or defamatory;
- threatening or insulting; or
- promotional information endorsing products or services not relevant to the event.

Event privacy

Your personal information (name and email) will be visible to TC Energy and others who are attending the event. If you wish to remain anonymous during your attendance, please contact TC Energy at public_affairs_ca@tcenergy.com for further details.

Event recording

TC Energy reserves the right to record the virtual event. By RSVPing to a virtual event, you are confirming your consent to have the presentation recorded.